How to Use These Coloring Pages

Twelve pages tell the Christmas story in the words of the King James Bible: Mary's "yes," the shepherds, the angels, the manger, the star and the wise men, then the joy that follows. Each page has an original drawing, a hand-lettered phrase to color, and the full verse printed underneath so you can read it together.

- 1 Print it. Print at 100% / Actual size. Use cardstock for markers; regular paper is fine for crayons and colored pencils.
- 2 Read first. Read the verse aloud before you start. Little ones can trace the big letters with a finger.
- 3 Color slowly. Fill the outlined words first, then the picture. There is no wrong color for a star.
- 4 Talk about it. Ask: "Who is in this verse? What did God do?" Kids can tell the story back as they color.
- 5 Make it a countdown. Color one page a day from Dec 13 to Dec 24 (schedule below), or all 12 on a slow afternoon.

Bonus. Page 15 is blank for your own Christmas drawing and favorite verse. Families and churches may print as many copies as they need for their own homes and classes.

MORE WAYS TO USE THEM

Advent wall. Hang each finished page in a row as a paper Advent calendar.

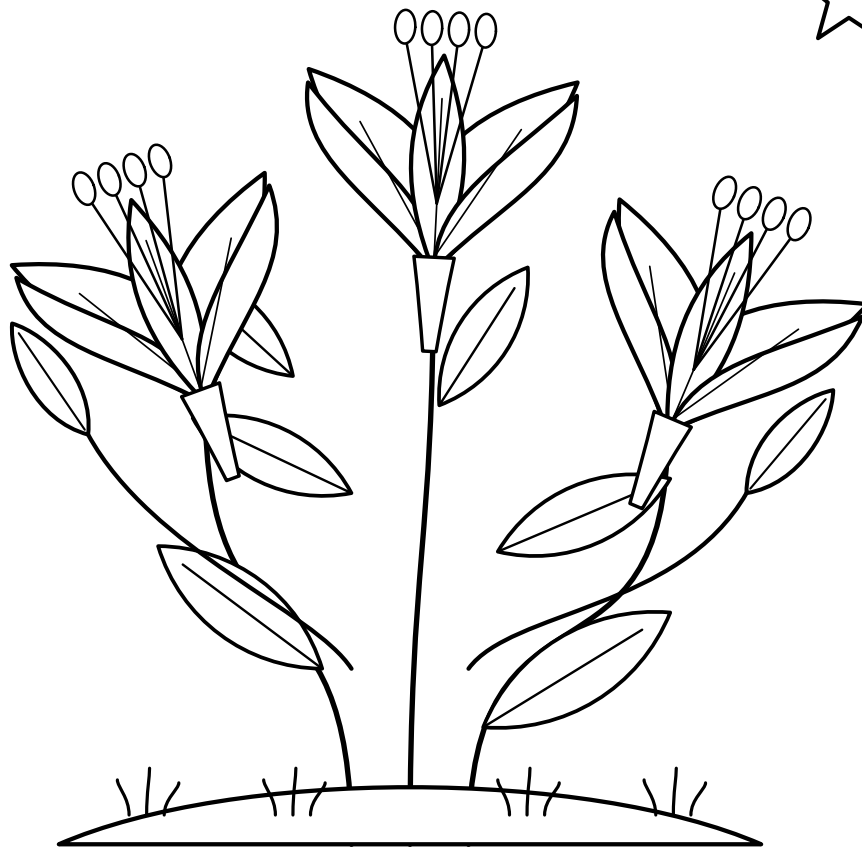

Cards & placemats. Fold a page into a card, or laminate one as a Christmas dinner placemat.

Sunday school. Read the verse, tell the story, color, and send the page home.

Grown-up quiet time. Colored pencils or gel pens and a cup of tea: a slow way to sit with one verse.

"Sing unto the LORD, bless his name; shew forth his salvation from day to day."
